

Miners Refuse To Obey Court Even If They Must Starve

Say They Fought Too Hard for Check Off System to Let It Be Abolished

EXPECT LEADERS TO SPLIT

Action of Ohio Mines Abandoning Check Off May Be Signal for General Walkout

BULLETIN

By United Press Leased Wire
Logan, Ohio—Operators of the Starr-Jackson mine at Conville ordered their bookkeepers to refuse to check off miners' dues Thursday. The miners refused to work.

By Carl Victor Little
Terre Haute, Ind.—Coal miners Thursday determined to starve rather than bow to a federal court edict.

"We are fighting for the very life of unionism and can't quit," was on the lips of most of the thousands of miners who paraded the streets of a dozen mining towns while 225 mines were idle.

Close to thirty thousand workers refused to mine a bucket of coal after Federal Judge Anderson, at Indianapolis, issued an injunction against the check off system, whereby operators deducted union dues from the pay of the men and turned it over in a lump sum to union headquarters.

The men Thursday many of them dressed in their best clothes as if on holiday, did not go near the mines.

Workers Understand
The workers did not blindly follow their leaders into this strike. Every one of the many interviewed knew exactly why he was striking.

Back in 1897, they said, the check off system was established after unions had struck eight months to get it written into union agreements.

"The ruling was unfair," said Arthur Donnelly, West Terre Haute miner. "What we fought so bitterly for cannot be so easily lost."

Practically all miners held the same view as Donnelly.

This strike, which has not been formally ordered by union heads, is one of the most singular on record. Miners are not picketing the mines and owners are making no attempt to operate.

Miners Face Want
Dire want is faced by those on strike. Most of them have worked only two or three days a week all summer.

Judge Anderson's injunction tied up all the funds of the United Mine Workers. This means, and the miners realize it, that they can get no financial aid from their "war chest."

Union officials of district 11, the heart of the soft coal fields in this country, said no strike order had been issued. However, John Hesser, president said that all but four mines were idle.

Operators refuse to comment on the situation. Two hundred of them are in the Terre Haute district. They are to decide whether or not they will obey Judge Anderson's ruling.

Leaders Split
Indianapolis—Another veiled threat of a bituminous coal strike came from headquarters of the United Mine Workers Thursday.

President John L. Lewis declared "in the event the operators of any district officially abrogate an existing contract they thereby impair the validity of the entire instrument."

In a telegram to district union chiefs recently, Lewis told them to consider abandonment of the check off system of collecting union dues as a violation of contract and "act accordingly."

The only weapon of the union is a strike.

Lewis' assertion was made in a telegram to Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois district. Farrington opened an old score of internal politics Wednesday night by asking Lewis just what he meant when he advised his subordinate to "act accordingly." The telegram from Lewis was in reply and follows:

"I consider it most unfortunate that you failed to understand the telegram sent out on November first by the international officers. Of the 17 districts presidents to whom this message was sent you are the only one who found it necessary to ask for an interpretation. It is seemingly apparent to all other officers of our organization that in event the operators of any district officially abrogate an existing contract they thereby impair the validity of the entire instrument."

Chicago—Coal operators of Illinois will meet here on November 10 to decide whether or not they will obey Judge A. B. Anderson's injunction abolishing the check off system.

Only about 400 miners have walked out in Illinois fields since the injunction was issued.

BREWERS MAY SELL ACCUMULATED STOCKS

Milwaukee—In a letter received here Wednesday by the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Company, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair announced brewers are to be allowed to sell their accumulated stocks of beer for medicinal purposes.

This letter from Blair is the first ruling made on the subject.

U. S. WOULD FREEZE AFTER THREE WEEKS

Nearly thirty thousand coal miners already are on strike and hundreds of thousands more are discussing a walkout with winter at hand.

If the mine strike grows into its threatened proportions the country can subsist on its existing coal supplies for three weeks, experts predicted.

Hope of averting the strike was in a split between Frank Farrington, leader of the Illinois miners, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America. Farrington ordered Illinois miners back to work.

PLANTZ NAMED ON ELECTION CARDS AT TEACHER MEETING

Lawrence College Head Actually Proposed as Head of State Organization

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee—With more than 5,000 educators present, the sixty-eighth annual convention of the Wisconsin Teachers' association opened here Thursday morning.

The chief matters to be taken up at the convention and which will engage the teachers in battle on different fronts, are the contest for the presidency and the proposed reorganization of the association.

Election cards presenting the following names for candidates for the presidency of the association were circulated:

F. S. Herer, Whitewater Normal school; Thomas W. Boyce, Milwaukee, principal of elementary schools; Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college and J. H. McNeil, Beloit.

The convention was formally opened in the main hall of the auditorium here this morning with an address by John Callahan, state superintendent of instruction.

SEEK BODIES IN CABIN OF WRECKED ROSABELLE

Racine—The schooner Rosabelle, owned by the House of David, Benton Harbor, Mich., which was reported lost in last Saturday's storm, was towed into port here Wednesday. The derelict was bottom side up and the stern was washed away.

Divers began work Thursday morning to learn whether the bodies of the crew of five men are confined in the boat's cabin.

Letters Keep On Coming For Richards, "Wizard"

Send No More Questions
Thousands of questions have been received by Richards, the Wizard, many more than he may be able to answer. For that reason no more questions will be accepted. Questions already on hand will be answered in the order that they have been received insofar as it will be possible.

Following is the third installment of questions and answers to be answered by Richards "The Wizard," for the people of Appleton and environs who are troubled or worried about some business or love affair, or someone missing and other intimate and personal matters regarding which they are in need of advice and the advice given in the majority of these questions almost borders on the supernatural, because of the fact that they show how clearly Richards can apparently look right into the private affairs of many of our prominent citizens. However, Richards claims to possess no supernatural power and claims that his work is strictly scientific, but this is only thought by many to be a modest cloak which he puts around some greater or unknown power. So that as it may, Richards has proven beyond question that he is the greatest mind-reader as well as magician that has ever appeared in a local theater. He is appearing all this week at the Appleton theater, presenting a big performance that is full of laughs, thrills, music, mystery, and new novelties. Richards carries a big company and an enormous amount of very elaborate settings, costumes, effects, etc., and the show is a fine treat for jaded theatergoers. Richards also answers questions at the theater as well as through the columns of The Post-Crescent and you have the privilege of sending your question in to the Post-Crescent for the answer to be published free of cost in these columns, or take it to the theater. Following is the third installment of questions and answers:

A. N. C.—Can you tell me who stole my bicycle?

Ans.—I do not mention names in the paper in such cases, but it was taken by a party who lives in the fourth house west of the house where your friend Walter S. lives. I would not advise an arrest as the party will return the wheel willingly.

K. H.—Will I get along all right if my husband leaves me?

Ans.—Don't let the matter worry you. I see you having some severe trouble for a very short time and then you will get along nicely. I advise you to make immediate application for employment.

W. A. C.—I have been expecting to spend the winter at Palm Beach, Fla., but brother wants me. Which is best to do?

Ans.—I advise you to keep your present position as you would not profit right now by making a change.

A. C. J.—How long before I meet my loved one I am anxious to see?

Ans.—I see that your anticipations are to be realized in the near future, and I also see an improvement in your health.

M. E. O.—Is my wife true to me? Where was she last Friday?

Ans.—Certainly your wife is true to you, but likes to get a little pleasure out of life, and if you will go out with her occasionally, clean up yourself.

Jail Bed Not Inviting To N. P. Leader

By United Press Leased Wire
Jackson, Minn.—"You fellows want to know too much," Arthur C. Townley said early Thursday when questioned as to the sleeping qualities of a jail bed. He looked laggard after his first night in jail—and he has 89 days to serve before he is square with the state for violating the espionage act.

Townley showed something of his character when he paid the fine of J. H. Bachman and gave him $2.50 to get home. Bachman had been fined $25 for stealing an automobile tire and couldn't pay, the fine so was confined in jail.

The "big chief" of the National Non-partisan league refused to discuss the North Dakota recall. He brought five volumes on physical culture to jail with him and will "go into training" during the three months he is in jail.

Germany Has New Plan To Pay War Debt

Announcement of Plan to Rescue Falling Mark is Expected in Washington

By Carl D. Grant
Washington—Germany has a new proposal for meeting her reparations payments.

It was learned Thursday that the plan has been outlined by State Secretary Karl Bergmann of the German finance ministry to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and the state department. Thursday it was to be presented to Benjamin Strong of the Federal Reserve bank, New York.

The plan involves no sanction of the United States government. American officials, however, are interested in the proposal but so far are not revealing its details, apparently on the theory that such discussion might be taken publicly as a governmental "best" for the idea.

The scheme, however, was intended to be sound. It evidently would bolster up the falling mark and would be designed to meet favor with the allies.

Bergmann is known to have consulted Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who for a long time has been interested in the recovery of mid-Europe on the theory that America and the rest of the world are influenced disadvantageously by existing conditions there. Thursday Bergmann was scheduled to meet in New York Benjamin Strong, governor of the New York Federal Reserve board. In formation to the United Press designated Bergmann's mission as "highly important."

Bergmann, who is known as the biggest expert in Germany on reparations, is believed to be laying the ground work for a new deal in the reparations matter which will unquestionably come before the arms session in one form or another.

'OPEN DOOR' IN CHINA IS BIG AIM OF PARLEY

Political Compact Essential to Prevent Japs from Gaining Domination

WORLD EYE ON RESOURCES

Policy is Needed in China to Attract Combined Loans of World Bankers

By David Lawrence
Copyright 1921 by Post Pub. Co.
(In this the fourth of a series of highly interesting dispatches giving the reader a background of information on the coming armament conference, David Lawrence, the famous Washington correspondent, tells why China is an international problem.)

Washington.—China has always been a problem common to the six great powers—Great Britain, United States, Germany, Japan, Russia and France.

Time and again efforts have been made to float six-power loans or five-power loans among banking groups of all the major countries in an effort to help put China on her feet. Little by little the nations of the world have been encroaching on her domain. Her undeveloped resources have been tempting to the alert business men of other countries.

Concessions have been obtained in all sorts of ways from the helpless Chinese government which in recent years has been reduced to a central government but has moved along with curious indifference as local governments and provincial authorities have sprung up within the immense empire.

The possession of railways means a great deal to the nation which owns and operates them in China. It insures access to the mines of the interior for bringing out of valueless freights. British, American and German capital have been content to develop railway enterprises without assuming to obtain political control for their respective governments of any territory in China. The much talked of province of Shantung with its immense territory was never ceded to Japan at the Paris Peace conference.

Japan was asking for the right to hold the province for the purpose of the door to Shantung province was given Japan as well as jurisdiction over the railway to the interior including a 20-mile strip on each side of the railway. It is true the Germans had that right and Japan was asking only for that which Germany had forfeited through her defeat in the war. Japan was asking for the right to hold the province for the purpose of the door to Shantung province was given Japan as well as jurisdiction over the railway to the interior including a 20-mile strip on each side of the railway. It is true the Germans had that right and Japan was asking only for that which Germany had forfeited through her defeat in the war.

But that brought the rub. Would the Japanese be content to operate as the Germans had? Indeed, the Germans entered into working agreements with British and other European business men in the Far East. It was purely a commercial not a political proposition. Would the Japanese keep it commercial or use it to penetrate China politically and get to the administrative independence of China?

The Chinese thought so. They openly said so. That's the basis for their opposition to Japan's acquisition of one inch more of a foothold in China. It's a question of faith, of trust or suspicion. The Japanese protest that they never break their word, that they have only disinterested motives and seek merely a place for commercial expansion for their nearly overpopulated country. But the Chinese will not listen. Sharing the Chinese suspicions are practically all the British, French and American business interests in China. They expect their respective governments to use their moral and physical power to keep the Japanese from overstepping the bounds of commercial enterprise and to hold on to the open door shall mean an open door and no discrimination.

The drawing up of a treaty or convention which would insure all countries to respect China's territorial and political integrity is the big aim of the conference. When such a compact is reached, once held the Anglo-Japanese alliance? Great Britain might be reluctant to take the initiative in abrogating it but other powers would not hesitate to ask for the incorporation of a provision stating that all agreements and alliances or understandings entered into heretofore which may be inconsistent with the new treaty shall be automatically considered as denounced or abrogated. That would save England the necessity of denouncing the alliance and would absolutely remove any obligation on the part of Britain to come to the defense of Japan in the event of future trouble in the Far East.

To make the consortium worth while, a political compact between nations has been deemed essential. The agreement to come out of the forthcoming conference whether it be a treaty or convention will be of immense value as a moral support to the consortium. There are valuable resources in China which American capital would like to help develop—railways and mines. Americans have been complaining for years that they were not given the same backing by their government in the Far East as is given the citizens of Great Britain or Germany or France. The new compact with respect to the Far East is destined to remove inequalities and give the American an equal chance.

GENERATE PEP AT MEETING TO AID RED CROSS

Campaigners Get Instructions for Starting Annual Roll Call Armistice Day

ENTIRE COUNTY SERVED

Workers Urged to Lay Aside Other Duties and Help Red Cross for a Few Days

Red Cross workers will go into the 1922 roll call next week with an enthusiasm equal to that of war times. Their determination to reach the goal of a peace-time membership quota will be as earnest as that of other years. They will carry to every nook and corner of the county the message that Red Cross is not an organization that has outlived its usefulness with the cessation of war. They will bring anew to the public the realization that a big peace-time program is before the Outagamie co. chapter which will be of benefit to the entire community.

This was the feeling with which leaders from Appleton and all parts of the county left a luncheon in Northern hotel Wednesday noon, when those who will direct the roll call conferred with Hugh G. Corbett, roll call chairman, Mrs. B. W. Wells, county secretary, and others active in arranging the solicitation.

Drive Opens Nov. 11
Soon posters, educational literature, moving picture slides and a film, "The Spirit of Service" will remind everybody that the time has arrived to give this annual contribution of a "heart and a dollar." The roll call will be completed in two or three days if enough workers are found to cover the county within that time. Instructions were given every worker and each township, city or village will make up its organization to put the roll call across.

One of the strongest points of constructive criticism brought out in the meeting was a feeling among people in various parts of the county outside Appleton that the money contributed to the county treasury was used too largely for Appleton work alone, and that the remainder of the county received little benefit.

"The charge is untrue—but people were not blamed because it was said that no publicity campaign had been carried on to inform them to the contrary. As evidence that the entire county is being served with Red

IOWA MAN IS NEW HEAD OF LEGION

By United Press Leased Wire
Kansas City, Mo.—America's "Army of peace" has demobilized Thursday after electing Sanford McXider, Iowa, "dark horse" to guide its destinies for another year.

The 75,000 ex-service men who put on the country's "biggest party" in Kansas City the last few days, were enroute home.

Peggy May Land Banker's Son After She Makes Sure Of Million In Jewelry

Chicago—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, former flapper beauty, and her millionaire lumberman husband Thursday were near agreement for settlement of their marital and financial difficulties out of court.

An agreement had been reached allowing Peggy to retain the $1,328,216.32 worth of gifts which Joyce gave her from Aug. 1, 1919 to the time of their separation. Westmouth, Kirkland, attorney for Mrs. Joyce, indicated the negotiations were near conclusion but refused to confirm the report that an agreement had been reached.

In return for allowing her to keep the expensive gifts, Peggy is understood to have agreed to permit the Joyce suit for annulment of the marriage which comes up for hearing before Judge Joseph Sabath on Tuesday.

The hearing, according to the agreement, will be only perfunctory and an annulment will be entered by the court. Peggy will not have to appear.

At present Joyce is paying Peggy $1,350 a month temporary alimony and has given her $40,000 attorneys fees.

Rumors connect Peggy's name with that of Peter C. Marillon, wealthy son of a Paris banker, in case her marriage with Joyce is annulled.

ARREST DEALERS WITHOUT PERMITS

On complaints prepared by City Attorney Theodore Berg warrants were to be issued Thursday for the arrest of nearly a score of Appleton men who have neglected to secure licenses as required by law to permit them to conduct various businesses.

Failure to secure licenses to permit the sale of soft drinks, cigars, dentures in case and junk and the purchase and sale of other articles has necessitated this action by the city.

The law requires that these licenses be secured on or before July 1 of each year and offenders have already been allowed three months' grace.

Junk dealers were said to be the majority of the persons who will be taken to municipal court to answer to the charges.

SHIPPING RECORD NEARLY PERFECT

Seven of the 1,522 packages received for shipment Tuesday by transportation companies operating in Appleton were classed as "imperfect," according to the first daily report made to Appleton Chamber of Commerce by these companies in observance of "Perfect Package" month which began Tuesday and ends Nov. 30.

This gives Appleton a standing of 22 7/12 per cent for the first day of the campaign.

Of the seven "imperfect" packages, three carried two shippers' names and two addresses. On three the previous addresses or old markings had not been erased. On the other one, the destination was inscribed "G. Ray, Wis." instead of bearing the name, Green Bay in full.

WATSON OFFERS TO PROVE CHARGES OF SOLDIER HANGINGS

Produces Letters to Senators Describing Hanging of Negro Without Trial

Washington—Senator Tom Watson of Georgia launched into a bitter attack upon senators who criticized him for his charges that American soldiers were hanged without trial in France, when the senate convened Thursday.

The Georgian reiterated his charges and declared that he could substantiate every word that he uttered.

Watson presented a newspaper which he said contained a picture of the hanging of an American soldier and asked that it be printed in the Congressional Record.

The writer stated that the soldiers encamped nearby had been invited to attend the hanging.

Watson said the original statements upon which he based his speech were made to him at his home in Georgia. He said that he believed the statements were true because he knew of no motive that would have moved his informants to tell him things that were untrue.

"I can show that officers had men shot without trial and that men were hanged like dogs in the uniform of the United States," he said.

Watson then sent a letter to the desk he said was from J. Danby Corwell, of Philadelphia. He said this letter contained two photographs showing the hanging of a negro soldier in France.

"It might be of interest to you," Corwell was quoted as stating. "To have the photographs I enclose showing a negro being executed at execution hospital No. 6, in France, where I was stationed. This occurred in June or July of 1915."

"We were invited to attend the execution but were forbidden to take photographs. In spite of that several were taken. No one ever found out just what the charge was against the soldier."

WHEAT LOWERS TO DOLLAR MARK FIRST TIME IN 5 YEARS

By J. L. O'Sullivan
By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Wheat sold Thursday at a dollar a bushel on the Chicago board of trade—the first time in five years that it reached that low mark.

The price was driven to the dollar mark in a hectic day of wild trading in the pit. Scores of brokers made vain efforts to hold the price above a dollar.

"If wheat isn't worth a dollar, it isn't worth a dime a bushel," one broker remarked early in the day to the United Press, in predicting it would never go that low.

December wheat opened stronger at 1.02 1/2 under support given by the optimistic brokers. It touched 99 1/2 at noon.

Millers were credited with driving down the price. Hundreds of book-keepers and traders who had been slowly driven down the 2 1/2 points until it reached the dollar level at noon. The price held at 100 1/2 for some time and brokers predicted that would be the low mark, but it finally fell through.

James A. Patten, grain king who made millions out of the corner in the corn market, was among those on the sidelines who watched the wheat price go down.

"I haven't got a nickel in the wheat market," Patten told the United Press correspondent as together they watched the tape and saw the steady decline.

"I was afraid of it," remarked the man who by his operations on the corn market, had driven hundreds of traders to the wall and was once the most feared trader in the pit.

"Wheat won't stop at a dollar," he predicted. "It will go down much further."

TO SAVE FARMERS FROM BANKRUPTCY

War Board Will Make Loans So Corn Crop Can Be Stored for Better Market

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Many thousands of farmers in the corn belt will be saved from threatening bankruptcy, under plans now being made by the war finance corporation to finance the storing of corn on a large scale. Eugene Meyer, jr., director announced Thursday.

This aid is to be extended farmers in Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Indiana and Illinois.

According to tentative plans warehouses are to be erected along the rights of way of railroads in these states and corn is to be cribbed. Local banks, backed by the war finance corporation, will extend financial assistance to farmers who find it necessary to store their corn in these new warehouses until such time as they find a market.

Corn is now selling from 20 cents to 28 and 30 cents a bushel, Meyer said. These prices are the lowest in 25 years.

Madison—Resolutions from three counties—Dane, Sauk and Grant—were received at the Executive committee Thursday endorsing J. B. Houston, former secretary-treasurer, for president of the farmers' organization to succeed Edward Pommereniz, now at the head of the society.

At the county meetings in these counties the action of the Pommereniz administration in attempting to use special trust funds of the society were vigorously condemned.

Concrete Suggestion for Solution of Problem is Offered to Council

VALLEY CITIES COMBINE?

Hawes Thinks Neenah and Appleton in Plan With

A combination study of the garbage disposal problem by officials of 20 cities of Appleton's class was proposed by Mayor J. A. Hawes at the semi-weekly meeting of the common council in the city hall Wednesday evening.

"Appleton is not the only city that is looking for a solution of this problem," said the mayor. "There is little in the way of apparatus that would recommend itself for a city of our size. A number of systems are in use, but they may not be practical for a city like Appleton."

"I suggest that an organization be formed among a number of cities in our class, and that we work out this problem together. Each group of officials then can recommend a plan to its council. This will give us the benefit of wide study and experience elsewhere so when we do embark in the garbage disposal business, and we virtually will be going into business in this respect, we will know that we have the right plan and equipment and our money will not be wasted."

Mayor Hawes also ventured the suggestion that perhaps neighboring cities, especially Neenah and Menasha, might be induced to join with Appleton in erecting a garbage disposal plant. The cities are only eight miles apart and with no present system might welcome an opportunity to divide this expense which might otherwise be prohibitive to any one of them.

The mayor referred to a conference with an Oshkosh official in which they agreed that it was time cities of the third class in Wisconsin ask the research bureau of the University of Wisconsin to take up this matter for thorough study and the collection of data. "The bureau also might inform cities whether a salvage plan is practical, or whether collections should be disposed of entirely."

"I would like to have all of the aldermen look into these matters and give me their opinions," said Mayor Hawes. "It was all the suggestion I can get which may help us to deal with this matter. We cannot go on much longer with our present arrangements; in fact, the state board of health some day will take up the garbage problem and we want to be ready."

COLLIDE WITH DARK WAGON; TWO HURT

MAKE HOME TOWN LOVELY TO MAKE IT WORTH LOVING

Lorado Taft Entertains Big Audience With Smeidid Art Lecture

Lorado Taft, who appeared at Lawrence Memorial chapel Wednesday evening as the second number of the Community Lecture and Artist series, delighted the regular patrons of the course and many others who had been attracted to hear him. He brought his message of community planning and pride in the home town to his hearers in a rambling tale of his own experiences both abroad, in Chicago and Oregon, Ill., and told it with a rare sense of humor, which brought hearty laughs and smiles of amusement or sympathy at the rate of one a minute.

The speaker began his lecture by quoting several community texts which he said the pulpit on the platform inspired him to use. Among the texts were two which Mr. Taft especially stressed. That man is a grater whose income is greater than his service to the community, and "Not money but the life of a community is its real wealth."

"We are willing that there should be a Carnegie or a Rockefeller if he uses his fortune intelligently for the benefit of his country and his community. I'm a man is clever enough to pile up a fortune honestly, by means of hard work and then uses it to establish foundations and institutions for the betterment of his fellow men. I am willing that he should do it. America has settled back into that way of thinking, although it does object rightly to the passing on of accumulated wealth to generations which had nothing to do with the effort."

Doughboys Laugh
Mr. Taft told of his experiences with the doughboys in France whom he went over to entertain after the armistice. He told of his plan to tell them of the beauties of this great country about which he himself had been lecturing in this country. He gained quite a reputation for a humorist with the boys when he would start out: "In this beautiful land of France," and the audience would break into a rough "Ha, ha." He soon gave up talking about France and began to talk about the old home town and what those returning boys could do to get rid of the things which were going to be disappointing to them on their return.

Make Town Lovely

his audience was summed up in his closing. He said: "Most small towns have nothing in them of beauty. How can you love something which isn't lovely. There will be no love of the home town until that town is lovely. Give the boys and girls in the city something to do toward making it lovely and they will take a certain amount of pride in it. They will then think of their beautiful home town and say: 'This is my town. I helped to make it.'"

In bringing this message to the people, Mr. Taft told of the experiences which the artists had had with Oregon, Ill., where they have a large summer colony. Mr. Taft himself made an Indian figure of great size at the opening to the artists' camp to typify the passing of the race which had loved that spot which the artists all loved. The people in the village began to think that he had done it for them, and then he said, he began to think that he had. From that time he took a greater interest in those people, which resulted in their soldier monument and finally in a community house and a small art gallery. He said that it was his belief and that of the other artists that brought them in touch with the community near which they had lived for several years without any understanding and sympathy.

Wants City To Provide Work For Unemployed Men

Council Considers Street Repair Work During Winter Buy Cinders

Relief for some of the men who will be unemployed this winter was proposed by Alderman Laabs at the regular meeting of the common council Wednesday evening when he suggested that cinders of streets continue during the winter months. Mr. Laabs explained that a number of streets are ready for a cinder-making it impossible for the street department to take care of them now. He suggested shipping in enough from lumber to make up for the deficiency and keep men busy for at least part of the winter spreading them. This would help some men out of work, Mr. Laabs said, and would complete a needed work. Mayor J. A. Hawes instructed the street committee to investigate the cost of shipping cinders from Kimberly by freight or truck, and to report at the next meeting.

A claim presented to the council for $552.50 by Lutz Ice company for damage to one of its trucks was referred to the judiciary committee. The company asks $554.50 for repairs made necessary when the truck ran into a scale pit on Superior-st., and $297.50 paid out for the use of another machine during the repair period.

Accounts amounting to more than asked $1,900 for razing and moving it elsewhere or $1,000 for the material and removal. Melers and Wagner's bid was $500 for razing and removal without keeping the material.

All city department heads were instructed to file immediate reports on all accidents to city employees according to a form prepared by Theodore Berg, city attorney.

RETURN VERDICT IN NINE MINUTES

A record for quick action by a jury was established Wednesday in municipal court when twelve men were out only nine minutes before returning a verdict of guilty in the case of the state against Gaylord Scott of the town of Maine who was charged with a statutory offense.

Hearing in the case began at 10 o'clock in the morning and was concluded at 3:25 in the afternoon. At 3:50 the court was adjourned. The quick action of the twelve indicated their minds were made up when they left the court room and all that remained to be done was to elect a foreman and sign the verdict.

Scott is being held in the county jail pending pronouncement of sentence Friday by Judge A. M. Spencer.

Order Drain Tile
Four-inch drain tile was ordered placed along both sides of the new concrete pavement on Carver-st. and the expense charged to the abutting property. It was explained that no curbing had been built and it was necessary to protect the surface lest water might seep beneath, freeze and crack the concrete. This tile would be necessary anyway when the curbs were built, it was said.

Theater licenses were granted to A. M. Beginger for two houses; Nell Duffy for the Elito and to Appleton theater to Elk club for its bowling alley and pool tables; I. H. Greenberg for junk and Mike Steinhauser for a taxi cab. George T. Prim, chief of police, announced that warrants would be served Thursday on all firms or persons who did not take out a license according to the nature of their business.

Citizens living on Lisie-st., fifth ward, petitioned to have a water main installed before winter because their wells were dry and no water supply was available. The request was referred to the fire and water committee.

Want Stairway
Request of a number of workmen in the "flats" that a stairway be erected from the foot of Pearl-st. hill to Kimball-st. to do away with hill climbing was referred to the street and bridge committee. Request for a street light at Harrison-st. and State-st. was referred to the street lighting committee.

Two bids for purchase of the city's gray team and harness were rejected because they were too low, one for $140 and another for $240. It was suggested that the street committee try to find a buyer at what would be deemed a fair price.

Anton Stadler was awarded the contract for removing a small bridge on Lake-st. near Appleton Machine company's plant. He agreed to do the work for $300 with the understanding that he was to keep the material himself. Blake Construction company

TOWN OFFICERS ARE BLAMED FOR GROWTH OF WEEDS

Several Officials of Outagamie-co. Towns and Villages Face Arrest.

Officers of the state agriculture department are on the trail of a number of village and town authorities in Outagamie-co. according to word reaching here from Madison and the prediction is that violators of state anti-weed laws will be hauled into court to answer to charges.

The anti-weed statutes provide that the chairman of each town board, the president of each village board and the mayor of each city shall appoint a person or persons as commissioner or commissioners to see that the anti-weed law is enforced. The complaint against Outagamie-co. town chairmen and village officers is that they have entirely neglected to comply with this provision of the law and that in many places noxious weeds have been allowed to grow in rank profusion in violation of the spirit and letter of the act.

The law requires that the weed commissioners must see that each person or corporation in the territory under their jurisdiction destroy all noxious weeds on their premises so that they will be prevented from seeding or from spreading to adjoining property.

Weeds which must be destroyed are Canada thistle, burdock, white daisy, snapdragon, cocklebur, sow thistle, sour dock, yellow dock, mustard, wild parsnip, Russian thistle, wild barley, morning glory, wild onion and quack grass.

Those connected with the agriculture department declare that in many cases, large patches of some of these weeds have been allowed to seed and spread unopposed. Intimation is that a statewide campaign is being made by the department against offenders to test the law.

Visiting Day" Big Aid To Teachers, Boards Told

County Superintendent Asks
Cooperation to Improve
County Schools

Acting upon the suggestion of the state educational department, Miss Florence Jenkins, county superintendent of schools, has introduced "visiting day" in the schools of the county, and at the annual convention of school boards and teachers at Eagle hall Wednesday afternoon pleaded for cooperation.

Miss Jenkins said the plan had been tried out in the town of Grand Chute and the results were such that its success is assured. Several teachers take a "day off" on which they visit other schools in session for the purpose of observation.

At the close of the session school problems are discussed and comparisons made and in this way the teachers secure much valuable information. Teachers who hesitate to ask questions at public meetings lose their timidity in talking over school matters informally and are enthusiastic over this plan of gaining ideas.

Before this plan was tried out sectional meetings for teachers were held throughout the county on Saturdays, but they were not a success inasmuch as they were not generally attended. These present came late and were usually anxious to get home and because of this very little benefit was derived.

George S. Dick of Madison, state rural inspector, who was one of the speakers at the morning session, called attention of school officers to the new laws concerning the centralization of schools and the transportation of pupils. He advocated union high schools in rural districts and laid stress on the advantages to be derived therefrom.

Mr. Dick recommended the reorganization of weak one room schools and advised monthly meetings to be kept busy solving perplexing ings of school boards. One of the greatest handicaps of a teacher is irregular attendance on the part of pupils and the necessity of overcoming this was shown by the speaker. Irregular attendance was an injustice to the pupil, to his classmates and to the teachers, he said.

"The deplorable over age condition in many of the rural schools," said Mr. Dick, "is due rather to irregular attendance, than to inefficiency on the part of the instructor. In an effort to keep them up with their classes teachers frequently frequently spend time on these pupils that belongs to their classmates."

At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Dick invited school officers to ask questions and for nearly half an hour school problems concerning textbooks, nonattendance of pupils and other matters of equal importance.

The final speaker was Prof. F. E. Mitchell of the Oshkosh normal school, whose subject was the "Great Lakes-St. Lawrence River Waterway." Mr. Mitchell said everybody was after cheap transportation and this is the reason for this project being under consideration. When this proposed waterway is completed it will be possible to load freight on a vessel at Green Bay and unload it at Liverpool or any other foreign port.

Mrs. D. W. Wells, secretary of the Outagamie County Chapter of the Red Cross, announced that the annual roll call would be held from Nov. 11 to Nov. 24, Thanksgiving day. She gave a brief review of the work that was being done in Outagamie county by that organization.

ANOTHER OFFICE BUILDING GOING UP IN WEST END

August Laabs Erecting One Story Structure in Big Ravine

Ground has been broken by Alderman August Laabs for a 1-story office building which will be erected on a lot owned by Mr. Laabs in the ravine on College-ave. between the God-finnon and Zickler stores.

Mr. Laabs intends to use part of the building for an office for himself and will rent the other portion for store or office purposes. He already has had a number of applications, but has picked no tenant.

The structure will be built of concrete blocks, will have a brick front-are of 20 feet and will extend 24 feet to the rear. The interior will have attractive wooden finish. Henry Boldt and Robert Schultz are doing the construction work and expect to have the building finished by Dec. 1.

Mr. Laabs believes owners of two other lots in the ravine also will be induced to erect business blocks when they find he has been able to build satisfactorily from the deep ravine.

GARBAGE AND RUBBISH DISPOSAL

Mayor Hawes is to be congratulated for the interest he has taken in the garbage and rubbish problem. This is a field of public service which is too often neglected by municipalities, and always to their detriment. It is easy to cultivate indifference to conditions that mar the appearance or endanger the health of the city, when to take cognizance of them means an additional expenditure in the devising of means to raise funds. When cities are hard pressed for economy, and in most of them the pressure is either imagined or real, the first inclination is to neglect public service. Many little things are allowed to slide simply because attention to them costs money. It operates differently in different cities. In some we find the streets neglected, in others it is the alleys and in still others it is public and private premises. Sometimes we find sanitary measures slighted, sometimes the fire department or the public department are skipped, and public safety endangered for the saving of a few hundred or a few thousand dollars.

None of these so-called economies in public service really pays. They are the cheapest item in the cost of municipal government, and every dollar spent in public service of this character, which relates to the health, safety and well-being of the people, is money well spent and is cheap at any price. Many cities are serious offenders when it comes to the handling of garbage and rubbish. It is a comparatively simple and inexpensive matter to remove garbage regularly and thoroughly, as well as to cart away ashes and other accumulations that litter yard and streets.

We are glad that Mayor Hawes has interested himself in this phase of public service for Appleton, and that it is his desire to provide an efficient and permanent method for the disposal of garbage and rubbish. Various means are employed by cities to handle their refuse and of course some plans have more to commend them than others. Mayor Hawes is making an investigation in an effort to secure the best system for Appleton. Appleton wants and should have the best. The mayor's progressive action will be approved throughout the city and the public will await his recommendations to the council with interest.

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE BEATEN

The Non-Partisan League has been beaten, and beaten soundly, in North Dakota. The recall election there has resulted in the election of R. A. Meston, independent candidate, over Governor Frazier, by a substantial majority. Returns indicate that practically the entire ticket opposing the Non-Partisan league was elected. The issue was squarely before the people. It was a question whether the organization which had all but wrecked state government in North Dakota, and which has reduced the finances and economic affairs of the state to a chaotic condition, should be continued in power.

The Non-Partisan League originally swept everything before it in North Dakota. It went into office and took charge of the machinery of government on a great wave of popular indorsement. Its program was essentially socialistic and was founded on grievances which the agricultural interests of that state had good ground for asserting. The remedy, however, has proven worse than the ill, and a few years' trial of paternalism has produced disaster instead of reform. There is no question but what a condition existed in North Dakota that needed a remedy, but it was not to be found in socialistic undertakings and in a departure from the fundamental theories of American institutions.

The defeat of the Non-Partisan League in North Dakota is a wholesome development. It indicates that the reaction against radicalism has set in and that the people are getting their bearings on better ground. The result in North Dakota ought to stimulate the organized efforts in Wisconsin against further inroads of the Non-Partisan League in this state.

THE MILWAUKEE INDICTMENTS

Under the constitution a man charged with an offense is held to be innocent until legally proved guilty. The indictment and arrest of Thomas A. Delaney on charges of conspiracy and acceptance of bribes while serving as federal prohibition director for Wisconsin do not establish his guilt. That must be proved, and until it is he is presumed to be innocent. The same is true of the others arrested with him, politicians, former office holders, liquor dealers, etc. It is to be hoped they will all be able to clear themselves of the charge, not only for their own good names but for the integrity of the law and public trust in Wisconsin. If, however, they are guilty, it is equally important that their guilt be proved, for the crimes they are charged with are serious. In the meantime the public should suspend judgment.

The indictments serve to emphasize the chaotic results of prohibition enforcement. Whether true in this instance or not, it is a fact that the entire country is honeycombed with faithless, grafting public officers entrusted with administration of the law. Millions have been made by bootlegging, illegal traffic of dealers and various schemes for evading the act. In this wholesale defiance of the constitution, officers of the law have been willing accessories. The opportunities for graft were too numerous and too tempting to be turned down. Right and left, in every state and city and almost in every village the bootleggers, manufacturers, dealers and enforcement officers were working in harmony.

The result is that prohibition, so far as its being an accomplished fact is concerned, is a farce, while the evils practiced under it and in its name have become a national scandal. Graft has become rampant. It has been uncovered or exists on a stupendous scale. The traffic in both liquor and public trust is enormous. Whiskey can be had by anybody in any quantity at any time. It is simply a question of price and lubricating the wheels that are ceaselessly moving it.

It is a sad situation. It has been brought about mainly by two facts. The first is the extremes to which it was sought to apply the constitutional amendment, extremes that were unpopular and were bound to invite disastrous reaction. The second is that enforcement for the most part was committed to politicians, whose belief in neither the law nor the duties they were called upon to perform was genuine and whose probity was not above suspicion. It is time we commenced to learn some lessons from the experience of the last year and to profit by them.

After Three Years

If the gentlemen of the Disarmament Conference will consider the world and its people, they will learn that this round little globe is full of people armed to their necks. A statement issued recently shows that twelve nations in this world keep up an armament of six million. Quite a big army! And this army of six million has a reserve which is estimated to be twenty million.

Among all the nations who partook in the war against the Central Powers, the United States is the only one who disarmed her forces. Since the armistice, three years, three graves and stormy years, have passed, and during these three years the European nations have not completed the disarming of their forces; international disarming is still a dream, a far away, unachievable fata morgana.

The old war machine is still unharmed and ready in the courtyard of the God, Mars. The people of today are still bowing before this idol to worship it, and they are still bringing with them their sacrifices in a long, endless line.

The Washington Disarmament Conference must be the one to drive a stake in this endless line. If it can't break it alone—SZABADSAG (Hungarian, Rep.) CLEVELAND, O.

The Leafing Stockholder

Henry Ford is talking exactly like himself when he claims that the success of his new railroad is due to the fact that his organization has simply "cut out the loafing of men, the loafing of engines and the loafing of cars." Efficiency is his watchword, and there is no doubt that efficiency demands that every man, including those in the legal and accounting departments of the railroad, should produce results in proportion to his pay. Probably efficiency demands that much of the rolling stock of the railroads should be lighter, just as the efficient flier is lighter than the multiple-cylinder limousine which Americans occasionally buy. But to eliminate stockholders—presumably because they "loaf"—is a proposal which few leaders Mr. Ford will take seriously. He himself eliminated them from the D. T. & I. by the simple device of buying the road when its condition was so bad that the stock was practically worthless, but he refused to accept this procedure as a precedent. If he really believes that dividends are an improper charge on American railroad finances, let him—oh, let him—sell his little cars at cost.—BALTIMORE SUN (Ind. Dem.)

The nations can lessen their arms by shortening their reach.—WASHINGTON POST.

Health Talks

Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' general interest never printed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual case cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE RAW FOOD QUESTION

There are sound reasons for and against eating raw foods. The late Professor Metchnikoff strongly condemned the practice of eating raw milk or raw milk cream, or fermented. He insisted that the "lactic microbes" certainly prevent the multiplication of other microbes, as, for instance, those of putrefaction, but are incapable of destroying them. Laymen who purchase preparations purporting to be of Metchnikoff's invention should particularly note that the great scientist himself did not believe that lactic bacilli (Bulgarian cultures) destroyed the bacteria that cause intestinal putrefaction. Metchnikoff insisted that milk to be fermented with lactic cultures be first skimmed and then boiled five minutes.

Metchnikoff taught that "pasteurizing milk at a temperature of about 140 degrees Fahr. is not sufficient to get rid entirely of the bacilli of tuberculosis. . . . we have therefore to fall back on a middle course, and be content with boiling the milk for several minutes." As most dairy cattle in this country have tuberculosis, this teaching of a famous bacteriologist is worthy of respect. But there are other things in milk than tubercle bacilli and suchlike contaminations. There are vitamins, for instance (much as I hate to drag a bacteriologist over to a weak subject). If one can have the assurance of tuberculin tests for the herd from which the milk comes or if the milk is certified milk—the very finest that can be had—then by all means drink raw milk and feed it raw to infants and children. If such assurances are lacking, then pasteurization as a compromise with filth is the consumer's Hobson's choice, for we pasteurize milk only when we do not believe it is a pure article. The 20 minutes or more of moderate heating in the process of pasteurization has been found to destroy vitamins in the milk, yet in this country pasteurization is generally relied upon to destroy all disease germs that may be present in milk, also so great an authority as Metchnikoff asserted that this pasteurizing does not necessarily destroy such dangerous germs as tubercle bacilli.

Since many epidemics of septic sore throat, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, and diphtheria, have been traced to milk polluted by germs from the cow or germs contributed by those handling the milk on the way to the consumer, I should prefer to rely on the vitamins necessary for the growing child. We must resume this subject at another session.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Infantile Paralysis

Our 14-year-old daughter suffered an attack of infantile paralysis 10 days ago. The fever lasted four days, starting at 102° and gradually coming down to normal. Nerves of left knee appear to be paralyzed. Doctor put the leg in a plaster cast, to be left on two weeks. What is the correct treatment? (W. W. T.)

Answer—The doctor is giving the little girl the correct treatment.

Good Toothpaste

Kindly give me a recipe for a good toothpaste, one that has neither binder nor filler nor any other nonessential. (T. R. J.)

Answer—Take of any suitable toilet soap that is uncolored and unflavored a sufficient quantity. Shave in fine shavings and boil with plain water a sufficient quantity to make a paste of your preferred consistency. You then have the best toothpaste I know. Of course the original soap is quite as good, but if you must have a paste this one is second to none.

The Humorous Neighbors

My baby is 11 months old and I want to have her hair trimmed a little. Neighbors tell me that if I cut it before she is a year old she won't be able to talk plainly. . . . (A. M.)

Answer—Have the neighbors told you the old one about the man in the jewelry and loan business? He was feeling bad, and on inquiry learned that Dr. Eingle charged $5 for the first office consultation and $3 for each subsequent call. So he decided to try Dr. Eingle. When the doctor greeted him, Goldberg groaned: "Oh, doctor, here I am back again so soon—I hope you help me better this time." Dr. Eingle asked him two questions only, then said: "Keep right on with the treatment I prescribed before, Goldberg. Three dollars, please." If the neighbors spring any others on you, write me again—I've found an old almanac in the attic.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Thursday, Nov. 5, 1895

George Birmingham attended the wedding of a friend at Oshkosh the day previous.

Twins, a boy and a girl, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Schilling.

A. B. Briggs and daughter, Miss Maude Briggs, left for Decatur, Ill., where they were to spend the winter with Charles Briggs.

Ethel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Murphy, invited a number of her little friends to assist her in the celebration of her birthday anniversary on the following day.

The Laws and Johnst. Improvements were accepted at the meeting of the common council the previous evening.

The first wild goose killed near this city for a long time was shot by Harry Shannon. It measured 5 feet, 3 inches from tip to tip.

The common council received a communication from Lawrence University asking it to join with the university in celebrating the semi-centennial of the following Jan. 20. The invitation was accepted and a committee was appointed to cooperate with the university consisting of Peter Thom, chairman, and Aldermen Harwood, Pearson, Kober, Leonard, Meyer and Lyons.

Robert McClure, Republican, was elected sheriff by a plurality of 315 over his opponent, Louis Leimer, Democrat. E. S. Minor's majority for congress over Judge Case of Portage was $500.

William Witham, 50, a pioneer of the town of Greenville, died at Marshall Nov. 3.

The first annual joint ball of the Brotherhood of Firemen and the Brotherhood of Firemen of Kaukauna was to take place in that city Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 25.

Just Words

The Washington conference for the elimination of unemployment has come to an end. After mutual compliment the members of the conference parted in great satisfaction. Campers were just as satisfied as the steel magnate, Schwab.

The least satisfied are those who are unemployed or suffer on account of the unemployment situation. The main goal of the conference was to end it quickly. Many words were spoken, many resolutions moved and adopted, which, however, are chiefly in favor of big capital.

Even those present perhaps felt how void and fruitless was their conference for the unemployed. The government did not have any intention of giving work to the unemployed. If it had had this intention, the conference for the elimination of unemployment would have been unnecessary.—GLASNADEA (Jugoslav, Rep.) NEW YORK CITY.

Watch Doctors Needed

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—Horology is going to be added to the list of professions.

By getting it recognized as a learned profession, the same plane as pulling teeth or defending and

prosecuting criminals,

the Horological Institute of America hopes

that some embryo dentists and

lawyers will be

deflected to horology. It is promised that they will find less competition, and more chance of service in this neglected field.

Perhaps it should be explained that an horologist is not a crystal gazer, but a watchmaker. The term is going to become more familiar in the future, because the new horological

Institute has decided that it is a title preferable to that of watchmaker.

It might also be explained that a watchmaker is not a man who makes watches. At one time he was. But now, when watches are made in a factory, the employee who makes a certain wheel for thousands of time-pieces generally has no claim to the title of watchmaker. That name is reserved for the man who knows the anatomy of a watch as a surgeon knows the human body. The watchmaker repairs watches and designs

new models.

The country needs 4,000 more of these horologists than it has, and the public is suffering accordingly, though it may not realize it.

You may have noticed that getting a watch repaired of late years is a difficult undertaking. You take the watch to a watch doctor, and he returns it in time—generally much longer time than you expected. It might have been fixed. Or again it might not. In this latter case, you try this doctor again, or you try another. Watchmakers who can correctly diagnose the trouble in a watch without proceeding by the trial or error method are scarce.

This is a serious situation because the time we carry is inevitably less accurate than it would be if the country had the proper number of expert watch repairers. In the agony, we are wasting enormous amounts of time through the decline of punctuality.

With many individuals a close accuracy in a timepiece is not regarded as necessary, though almost everyone has to catch trains and meet important engagements at times. With the railroad man, on the other hand,

a watch that is unreliable may mean death or injury to scores of persons.

Railroad Time Piece

There are 3,000 of these railroad timepieces that have to be kept to no more than 30 seconds error in a week. At the recent horological conference it was pointed out that while there are some excellent horologists

there are far too few who are capable of repairing a timepiece so important as a railroad watch. And there are undoubtedly some doing this work who are not qualified.

To improve conditions in the horo-logical industry, the Horological Institute of America has been formed.

It has just held its second conference, and agreed on its program. It has desired that watchmakers go back to the standards of former years when the designer and repairer of timepieces was regarded as an artist and a learned man. Watchmaking was recognized as a difficult art and it consequently attracted many promising young men or girls who want a career rarely thinks of this old art.

Horology requires more study and receives less financial reward than other professions, and so it is passed over. At present it is not classed

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Appleton, Wis. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose stamps in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Is a milking machine as successful as hand-milking? Should milking be done quickly or slowly? M. A. T.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that nothing has been produced which compares with the human hand as an efficient milking machine. The quicker the milking the richer the milk, provided the work is done well and completely.

Q. What is meant by "point-blank range"? M. A. T.

A. The Ordnance Department says that the term "point-blank range" means the point at which the bullet is located where it is at the same elevation as when it leaves the muzzle—a flat rifle aimed at a distance of 250 yards from the muzzle.

Q. What is the blue peter? G. H. A.

A. The blue peter is a flag that is raised by ships as a sailing signal. It is a rectangular blue flag with a white center of the same shape, but of about one-fourth the dimensions. It is the letter P of the international code, but when hoisted alone, signifies that the vessel is ready to sail on a short voyage.

Q. What is the most powerful lifting gas? A. J. P.

A. The Chemical Warfare Service says that hydrogen is the most powerful lifting gas and helium is the second.

Q. What drink is known as a "board light"? M. A. T.

A. On shipboard, a glass of green crime de meinte is called a "board light."

If Sir Walter Raleigh were living to-day he'd hesitate a long time before throwing down a Schmidt Overcoat.

The coats we are showing for Thanksgiving are too beautiful first of all—and with that said we are not through; THEY HAVE TOO MUCH VALUE, 1922

Value, to be turned down by any man. DON'T PAY MORE than we ask—it's unnecessary, it's a waste of money, you cannot get more, why try?

A Resume of American Newspaper Opinion

Hands-Across-the-Sea from Yorktown The TORONTO STAR, voicing what may be considered the feeling of "Our Sister of the Snows" respecting President Harding's declaration at Yorktown of Anglo-American friendship, thinks "it is fair to regard it as an important response to those declarations by British statesmen that the idea of war between the great English-speaking nations must be forever brushed aside as unthinkable, and the making of provision, by either nation, for any such eventuality as war, not only may and can be discontinued, but, as an example to the rest of the world, must be discontinued."

"For years the logic of events," says the PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC LEDGER (Ind.) has caused the roses of the English tongue to drift nearer each other. President Harding seeks to hasten it, believing that in the world currents now running this drift will make for peace in the world and for an eventual better understanding between men of all tongues. "The one thing needed to destroy civilization today is a universal which should get the English-speaking peoples of the world against each other," in the opinion of the MILL WAUKER JOURNAL (Ind.), and to what the RICHMOND TIMES-DISPATCH (Dem.) calls a declaration "in deliberately chosen words" of "peaceful relationships between the two great English speaking nations for all time to come." The DULUTH HERALD (Ind.) replies: "That it will be true is the highest hope for mankind, for there could be no vaster tragedy to this world than the spectacle of these two great nations, both priests and prophets of human liberty, in the death struggle of war."

"The happiest alliance in history is the surest way to world peace," is the doctrine of the ROANOKE WORLD NEWS (Dem.) on the doctrine of "enduring friendship," pronounced by the President, in accord with the NEW YORK TRIBUNE'S (Rep.) statement that "not a step forward can be made unless at the center of an alliance for peace are the two English-speaking peoples." The SALT LAKE DESPATCH NEWS (Ind.) gives as the foremost of the reasons for the unity which the President bespeaks "the fact that upon the relations of Great Britain and America the peace of the world and the preservation of civilization in large measure depends." In pronouncing this doctrine on enduring friendship the COLUMBIA (S. C.) NEWS (Dem.) says, "President Harding did no more than give voice to the sentiment of all sensible persons of both countries who have given thought to the subject," and the "CHARLESTON S. C.) NEWS AND COURIER (Dem.) sees no occasion for surprise in the course outlined by the President. "For no other cause is conceivable. But his open declaration of this fact understanding is exceedingly interesting and may be regarded with great significance."

A few of the papers, while entirely sympathetic with the idea of peaceful relations, are disposed to shy off from singling out Great Britain for any exclusive manifestation of amity. The "HARTFORD LEADER (Conn. Rep.) thinks the President's conclusion that "the United States and England are the trustees of civilization" probably will provoke "discussion and perhaps invite contradiction by other and older nations. That they have been the guardians of civilization or that they are much the wiser than the rest of the world which the world will not assume." "Maintaining longstanding peace and co-operating for the common good . . . goes not only as regards Great Britain but as regards all other nations," maintains the NEW BEDFORD (Mass.) STANDARD (Rep.). "That the means for maintaining this peace do not lie in one of the bad old alliances for peace" with Great Britain, "is maintained by the BOSTON TRANSSCRIPT (Ind. Rep.) says that "the address rings the death knell of all expectation of an Anglo-American alliance, but it strengthens the hope for amicable, earnest, continuous and triumphant peace between the two nations," while the NORFOLK DISPATCH (Ind. Dem.) feels that "it is necessary to the peace and security of the world that the two great English-speaking peoples shall be allies in fact, whether they are allies in form or not."

A sprinkling of Democratic papers goes further than the words of the President and wishes to be shown in just what way the enduring peace is to be maintained. "Unthinkable things" have repeatedly happened in history," says the BALTIMORE SUN (Ind. Dem.):

"It seemed at one time unthinkable that the American colonists would draw the sword on the mother country." Sentiment, race kinship, ties of language, mutual traditions of glory and historical fellowship are not always sufficient barriers to avert national outbreaks. To lessen the danger of these unruly impulses it is important to give form and obligation to co-operation. It is for Mr. Harding to aid in this work of definition and agreement."

"All these professions of sympathy for an interest in England and France sound very well, providing there is something in the way of actual performance to make them really worth while," says the DAY

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

JEWELS OF NIGHT LIFE QUEEN GONE

Slain Racine Woman's Valuable, Worth $25,000, Believed to Be Stolen

Racine—Jewelry, cash and securities valued at nearly $25,000, owned by Angeline Stecher, "queen of Racine's night life," who was found murdered here on Sunday, are missing, authorities discovered Wednesday afternoon.

Excavators who opened the safe in Mrs. Stecher's Globe hotel, in which she kept her valuables, found it empty.

As a result of these disclosures, the theory that Mr. Stecher was murdered for her diamonds was strengthened and an inquest called for later Wednesday afternoon to probe into the murder.

Harry Gohlbank, poolroom proprietor and roomer at the dead woman's hotel, who discovered the mutilated body, and George Gohlbank, his brother, owner of a fruit store next to the hotel, have been ordered to appear at the inquest for questioning. Mrs. Stecher's body was removed to her home at Racine for burial Wednesday afternoon. Besides the missing jewels and securities, Mrs. Stecher owned real estate in Milwaukee, Aurora, Ill., and this city. Her total estate is estimated at $75,000.

INGROWN TOE NAIL
TURNS OUT ISELF

A few drops of "Outgrow" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgrow" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

ENGINEER SAYS SIGNBOARDS ARE DANGER SOURCES

Weissgerber Approves Brown-co. Effort to Remove Large Advertising Signs

Outgumbe-co. ought to follow Brown county's example in ordering advertising signs removed from its highways, in the opinion of O. F. Weissgerber, city engineer. Their removal or a definite set of rules regulating their erection and location would be a decided improvement and a means of safety, he believes. Brown-co. clubmen inaugurated the movement to have the signs taken down, the beauty of the highways left unimpaired by billboards prominently scattered without regard to their appearance. They were unsuccessful in their first dealings with authorities because there was no legal authority, but later it was found that a new state law permits no advertising signs within the road boundary. The district attorney declared them nuisance, and owners are being served with notice from the highway commission to remove them.

Source of Danger
Mr. Weissgerber expressed the feeling of others in Appleton that many of these signboards are a source of danger to motorists. They are placed at road intersections or at curves, often obscuring the view. A number of collisions have resulted that could have been avoided.

Warnings placed by the highway commission at dangerous points lose their effectiveness and fail to impress the autoist, because so many business houses put up unofficial guide, danger or mileage signs with their advertisement beneath, some of which convey the wrong information. As a matter of safety all such commercial signs which only confuse the autoist should be removed, and only the official highway signs left to carry their message clearly to the driver, Mr. Weissgerber believed. Business houses may consider this good advertising, he says, but there are other methods, fraught with less danger.

The engineer also believes signboards placed within Appleton city limits also ought to be under definite regulations. Every time an advertising sign goes up in any locality, a shower of complaints reaches Mr. Weissgerber's office from people in that locality who dislike them. He can do little, unless the owner of the property can be induced to refuse permission.

Violate Ordinance.
"A good plan to adopt here," he said, "would be to require the consent of every property owner within 500 feet of the proposed location of any signboard. There would then be less cause for complaint and some way to regulate the placing of these boards."

Mr. Weissgerber agrees that there are places where signboards fit in nicely and perhaps hide unsightly commercial beauty spots.

It is against Appleton ordinances to tack signs on telephones or electric poles, fences, buildings and other places, and enforcement of these measures by the street department has made Appleton much more attractive than neighboring cities. Cards or signs posted in violation are torn down immediately. Linemen are endangered by tacks or long nails driven into posts, because if their spurs happen to strike one of these, their feet slip and a fall may result.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste. Pinex is a potent and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BACK TAXES PAID THRU PROSPERITY OF WATER DEPT.

Reports Show Municipal Plant in Best Condition in Some Time Under New Rates

Not only was the municipal water department able to pay its 1919 and 1920 taxes of $39,484.49 into the city treasury, but the plant earned a net profit of $2,020 during the month of September, according to the financial report submitted at a meeting of the water commission in the city hall Tuesday afternoon.

This is considered one of the most encouraging developments in city administration for some time, especially when so much depression is abroad. The surplus fund kept by the water department for developments and replacements of equipment was reduced somewhat by the payment of the back taxes, but holds a substantial balance for any emergency, with prospects that it will be replenished within a few months and the 1921 taxes will be paid when due.

The department has been gaining lost ground since last May. There was a deficit each month while the rates remained at their old level and the railroad commission was considering a plea for an increase. As soon as the revenue jumped under the new scale of rates, the financial embarrassment began to fade. Now it is only a question of time when the plant may be situated so a reduction in rates may be asked of the state commission.

Bills and salaries amounting to $21,914.59, including the tax payment were allowed by the commission. The accountant's report was read and ordered placed on file.

John Wark was awarded a contract for mums in one block each on Mason and Lincoln-sts. at a price of 32½ cents a lineal foot when it was found that he was the lowest bidder.

MAY DEVELOP POWER ALONG WOLF RIVER

Several small power sources on Wolf river in Langlade-co. are to be developed soon if options held by persons whose names have not been divulged are taken up. Enough energy to operate a grist mill is available at a point called Mayking, and 500 horsepower for a sawmill may be had at Lily, on the former Wisconsin and Northern railroad. Definite developments are expected soon.

Why Should You Follow A Crooked Path?

Often a cowpath has been allowed to become a village street, and as the village expanded, tradition has made the winding way an expression of a cow's will.

Habit is always forging chains to enslave us, so that what has been found bearable by the fathers is accepted by the sons.

Who cannot recall the coffee-pot Mother put on the stove early in the morning, warning us not to let it boil over?

As children, we were not permitted to drink tea or coffee, because it would stunt our growth or make us nervous and irritable. When older, however, we craved a hot drink with meals, and custom gave us our tea or coffee.

Finally, upon the instructions of the doctor, Mother gave up her tea and coffee. But that meant nothing in our young lives. Our vitality was then strong enough to throw off any ill effects.

But our time came, and we learned by experience that we could not drink tea or coffee. When we had it for breakfast it put our nerves on edge. When we drank it at the evening meal, we tossed about in wakefulness most of the night.

And then we found Postum, a pure cereal beverage, free from the harmful drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee. We liked the rich, satisfying flavor of Postum—and also the better health which resulted. And, too, we were surprised to find how many of our neighbors had made the same discovery—had learned the value of "health first."

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

BIG CROWD ASSURED FOR HARTHILL LECTURE

All indications point to a record attendance at the illustrated crime, exposure to be given by Lewis Harthill, former Minneapolis police chief, at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel under auspices of Appleton Trades and Labor council.

Sale of tickets has been heavy, according to reports received Wednesday evening from various unions. The former chief will reveal the intimate knowledge of crime, its ways and cures as seen in his experience as a police official. His mission here is to show how reforms may be brought about in a sensible manner, with lasting effect.

MUCH COLDER A YEAR AGO THAN IT IS NOW

According to those who keep a record of weather conditions we were having cold weather a year ago at this time. Navigation was impeded by ice in the canals on Nov. 12 and 13 and for two days there was good skating. After that the hauling of coal up Fox river continued until the latter part of the month.

The railroad commission was considering a plea for an increase. As soon as the revenue jumped under the new scale of rates, the financial embarrassment began to fade. Now it is only a question of time when the plant may be situated so a reduction in rates may be asked of the state commission.

Bills and salaries amounting to $21,914.59, including the tax payment were allowed by the commission. The accountant's report was read and ordered placed on file.

CONSIDER BIDS FOR POLICEWOMAN JOB

Police and Fire Board to Meet Again Nov. 16 to Consider Applications

Several applications for the position of the first policewoman of Appleton were considered Wednesday afternoon at a regular meeting of the city fire and police commission. Upon request of Chief of Police

Edward A. Thompson

Noted American Reader

Lawrence Memorial Chapel
TUESDAY, NOV. 8th

George T. Prim, hiring of a policewoman was deferred to allow thorough investigation of the qualifications of each applicant in order that the commission might hire a person best fitted for the position. It was decided to hold a special meeting on the evening of Nov. 16 and at this time it is probable a woman police officer will be engaged.

In the discussion Wednesday, the commissioners reaffirmed their previous stand that the policewoman may receive the same salary as policemen now employed on the city force and that she will be governed by the same rules and regulations as other police officers. She will be under the directions of the chief of police.

Commissioners expressed the opinion that they would give preference to an applicant who has been for some time a resident of the city as they feel that such a person would understand local conditions better than a stranger and would consequently render greater service.

PRESBITTERIANS

There will be a picnic supper at the church Thursday evening 6 to 9 p.m. combined with the mid-week meeting to discuss the work of the church, getting ready for the coming of our pastor, and to get acquainted. Coffee will be served. All families members of church congregation bring your suppers and bring some for the other fellow. Come prepared to have a good time. Adv.

Take Evans' Triple Phosphates With Meals Gain Several Pounds of Stay-There Flesh

In one month's time EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES puts on several pounds of solid red blooded flesh and changes your weak, run-down, nervous tired body into a strong, vigorous robust one or money back.

Of course medical men are surprised and many are still unbelievers, but the fact is evident to every up-to-date pharmacist that Evans' Triple Phosphates will produce flesh without violent methods, face creams, daily massage or beauty torture.

In order to assimilate the nourishment food thin people daily take into the body and turn it into healthy, red blood corpuscles, the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape, and that is one of the first things Evans' Triple Phosphates does.

Evans' Triple Phosphates comes in small tablet form; a ten days' treatment is guaranteed to increase your weight at least several pounds, and in ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. All good druggists have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it, or money refunded.

Even though Evans' Triple Phosphates works wonders in all cases of nervous, digestive and blood troubles, don't take it unless you really desire to put on flesh, gain weight, adv.

HERE'S STRENGTH AND ENERGY FOR OLD FOLKS

Milwaukee Lady Seventy Years of Age Tells How Garren's Tonic Has Enabled Her to Take Long Walks and Do Her Work Too Without Exhaustion

Mrs. Augusta Gerlack of 287 18th-st. Milwaukee praises highly Garren's Tonic for she says it has relieved her absolutely of stomach distress and its accompanying disorders from which she had suffered.

"I suffered terribly with my stomach for the past eighteen months such pain and distress until it was practically impossible for me to go about my usual household duties without great fatigue; nor could I sleep at night as I would toss back and forth on the bed and even would get up and sit in a chair in an effort to relax. I have tried treatments of various kinds and was even told after an X-ray examination that I had consumption.

I read about Garren's Tonic in the newspaper and decided to try it and I had only known about it before I would have said a great deal of money—for now I can eat and sleep and all of that tired feeling has left me. My old-time strength and energy has returned and I can walk fourteen blocks without the least exertion and come home and do whatever I want to.

Garren's Tonic has done more than all other medicine and treatments combined for me, and I can't praise it enough. I will never be without it in my home."

Garren's Tonic is sold in Appleton by the Schlicht Bros. Co., in Kaukauna by E. A. Meyer, in Greenville by H. H. Schulze, in Dalo by Abends Pharmacy, in Bear Creek by John W. Statter, in Seymour by S. G. McCord, and by the leading druggists in every city.

GENERATE PEP AT MEETING TO HELP RED CROSS DRIVE

Cross personal service and money, and with funds from Appleton people, Mrs. James A. Wood summarized some of the activities.

How County Is Helped
The county chapter has conducted two series of home nursing classes which served more than 500 women, with the expense borne almost entirely by Appleton chapter. A tuberculosis clinic conducted at Oneida with four doctors and a corps of trained nurses served 256 people. A tuberculosis clinic is to be held at Kaukauna, in which the county chapter will have an important part. A free tonsil clinic was conducted at Hortonville. Cripples have been afforded treatment and some have been restored to health by the Junior Red Cross and the Appleton chapter, one case alone costing $1,000. The chapter cooperates with Miss Bertha Schultz, county nurse, providing funds or help for operations or other cases where money is lacking. The entire county is served to the best of the chapter's ability and people in all the townships are rendering service to the chapter, Mrs. Wood said.

J. P. Frank, former county chairman, said in a brief address that the Red Cross organization is handling in the balance. He believed it had reached the end of war enthusiasm by which money came easily. People were not awake to the peacetime program, he said, but gradually are learning of the new place Red Cross has in the community. He expressed a feeling that enthusiasm for the new work would come as people learned about it.

"The Red Cross has service to sell," said Mr. Frank. "Its service is a positive necessity to the community and is of lasting benefit to humanity. We have a reputation to maintain."

Workers were urged by Mr. Frank to lay aside all responsibilities they could and give all possible time to the coming roll call.

Dr. H. B. Penbody said the Red Cross had transferred charity from implied pauperism to applied patriotism and democracy. The old stigma was gone, and when help now is offered the ex-soldier, for instance, it is not regarded in the cheap sense sometimes assumed by charity.

Dr. W. L. Boyden of Seymour described the Red Cross and its funds as a security against hardship or calamity, gained in advance, just as life insurance is taken out long before a person expects to die. He suggested that the branch chapters in the county make a greater effort to inform the Appleton headquarters of their work and any roll call suggestions and that the central unit in turn keep the workers supplied with bulletins so the county always will be informed on what the Red Cross is doing.

Mrs. B. W. Wells said little was heard from the county Red Cross chapter for the first two years after the war because the time was being devoted to former soldiers, whose requests for assistance must come first, but that the peace time program has been agreed upon and the county would hear more of it.

Mrs. James A. Wood will have charge of the Appleton city campaign. She plans to select three leaders in each ward, who will have charge of a corps of solicitors to be named later whose duty would be to visit every home. A canvass also will be made in the business section. Headquarters for the county will be maintained at the Red Cross center on Appleton street instead of in the Sherman house as formerly.

Several other workers spoke and offered their suggestions. Chairman Corbett assured the township representatives they should feel free to call on the headquarters for speakers, material or any assistance they might need.

Rheumatism for Years Left Him Helpless and Unable to Work—Cured

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of countless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Schlitz Bros. Co., Voigt's Drug Store and Union Pharmacy have been appointed agents for Allenhu in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

Letters Keep On Coming For Richards, "Wizard"

and treat her as a wife should be treated you will have no occasion to worry about her. Marriage does not give you the privilege of being lax in your actions, dress and manners toward your wife. If you would hold her love you must give her the same little attentions you gave her before your marriage.

E. L.—When will I be confined?
Ans.—Either the sixth or seventh of December.

E. H. B.—I am a widow, and would it be well for me to marry again?

Ans.—Yes, you will have an opportunity for marriage this coming year and it would prove quite happy for you as well as your son.

A. H. S.—Kindly tell me in regard to the future success of my life.

Ans.—I see nothing unusual for the near future, but your life, generally speaking, appears quite successful and I see no cause for alarm over your future prospects.

E. M. P.—How long will it be before I secure employment?

Ans.—You will have an offer for a fairly good position in about two weeks and I earnestly advise that you accept same.

M. B.—Will my husband ever come back?

Ans.—You will hear either of him or from him in an indirect way, but I never see you living with him again. Don't worry as I see another coming into your life who will mean far more to you than he ever did.

T. M. D.—What would be the best course for me to take?

Ans.—I advise you to carry out your original intention.

J. M.—I was forced to sell out my business some time ago. Will I ever re-enter business again and if so will I be successful?

Ans.—If you arrange your plans to start again the latter part of 1922, you will be fairly successful. Just guard your finances more carefully at the beginning.

I. C. A.—Is there treasure buried on our property as reported?

Ans.—Yes, if you will dig about four feet deep 17 feet southeast from the outhouse at your place you will find a small box containing about $200. It was reported there was a large sum, but this was only exaggerated.

H. K.—When will I receive an office position?

Ans.—Such a position as you desire will be offered you shortly after the first of the year. You will have a chance for a similar position earlier, but I would not advise you to accept.

J. D.—Will the tall thin complexioned man who took money away from our house ever return?

Ans.—No, I don't see you getting any of this money.

S. C. R.—What is the matter with me? Is the doctor right?

Ans.—He is partly right. You have cancer of the stomach.

E. E. S.—Has my invalid sister made a will?

Ans.—I do not seem to see a will but I do see that she is making arrangements for proper division of her property. You will receive your share.

C. F.—Has my oldest brother disposed of all his property?

Ans.—Yes, but he has not received all the money due him and he will have a little difficulty collecting it.

C. B. C.—Will my husband get good steady employment this winter?

Ans.—He will not have work that will be entirely to his liking but he will do fairly well keeping employed.

G. R.—Does Mary love me and will she marry me if I ask her?

Ans.—You waited too long already in asking her as she is now secretly engaged to William B.

G. J. L.—Will my line of business I am now starting be a success?

Ans.—It will not meet your expectations at first, but don't be discouraged and keep going and you will be successful later on.

B. R.—Was my son insured in this late war?

Ans.—Yes, your son George H. R. carried the usual army insurance.

M. W.—Will my husband have work this winter?

Ans.—Not steady, but he will do fairly well financially.

H. H. D.—Do you employ spirits to help you in your work of answering people's questions?

Ans.—I am not a spiritualist, I am a scientist.

E. I. A.—Will I have any trouble with the neighbors where I am going to move?

Ans.—Pay no attention to what has been said by the woman who tried to cause the trouble. Say very little to your new neighbors, and nothing of this other affair, and with two exceptions you will be treated all right by them.

C. S.—Will I keep my diamonds if I go west for my health?

Ans.—I advise you to go, and although you will have to dispose of some of the diamonds it will be well worth the cost to you and your future wealth and happiness.

R. D. D.—Will my mother-in-law ever treat me all right?

Ans.—I see no change in her attitude in the near future. A death in the family later on will alter these conditions to your advantage.

G. J.—I am working on an invention. Will it ever be a success?

Ans.—It will prove fairly successful although I don't see you getting much money out of it.

C. A. G.—How long will I hold my present job before I am promoted to engineer?

Ans.—You will remain as you are for some little time, but don't be discouraged as I see the promotion for you.

A. M. G.—Will I lose the money I have invested in the sugar company?

Ans.—You will not realize anything on this in the near future, but still I don't see that you will entirely lose the money. It will yield returns after a time.

G. L.—Is my sister really married to George S? If not what shall we do about it?

Ans.—My advice to you is to leave them entirely alone, they have their own life and as long as they are conducting themselves decently I see no reason for interference. They have been keeping house for nearly a year and are happy, you and your husband have been married a trifle over five months and you are both unhappy, so why spoil their happiness by meddling. They will eventually be legally married and I see that he always will be good to her, therefore I warn you to use care that you guard your own life in order not to upset their plans. You can gain nothing by it.

K. N.—I am studying music part of the time, should I continue?

Ans.—Keep up your studies and practice more and you will soon develop a keener fascination for music, and what now appears a bit monotonous to you will vanish.

G. A.—Where is my half sister Helen?

Ans.—She is living at 133 Porter St., Detroit, Michigan.

This is Richards' last question today but other inquiries will appear each day this week. If you are in a hurry for an answer take your question to the theatre where he doubtless will answer you during the mental portion of the big show, although there will be no performance tonight, but regular performances Friday, Saturday and Sunday with a daily matinee. The matinee Friday being for ladies only. Does the least exertion tire you out? Do you feel "blue" and worried, suffer dragging backache, headache and dizziness?
